Your Child's Digital Tattoo

A tattoo is permanent, much like the information we post online. NCA-CEOP gives its top tips on making sure your child's online reputation is just as good as their offline one. The photos we share, the comments we write, the videos we 'like' all say something about us to other people. Even if we delete them, they may still be out there – saved and shared by others, or even kept by the site or app itself.

Five things to think about before you post

1. What do I look like?
2. Is this 'ink' permanent?
3. Am I giving away too much?
4. Would I want this shared about me?
5. Does it pass the billboard test?

Whatsapp - Age 16

Please note that the age restriction for Whatsapp is 16. We are aware that a number of children in school have this app on their device, it is one of the apps that causes most issues between friends. However this app also contains features that put children at risk from strangers. This app is not appropriate.

WhatsApp contains a group chat function. The feature lets users chat with up to 100 people in one conversation stream. Each group is set up by one contact who becomes the group admin – they're the only user who can add or remove participants and change/add new group admins.

Group conversations usually take place between friends. But sometimes, users can be added to a group where they don't know everyone else. Even if fellow users in the group aren't contacts, they will still be able to see messages your child posts in the group, and your child will be able to see theirs. Likewise, if they're added to a group with someone they've blocked, the blocked person will be able to contact them there.

Therefore, it's possible they could see or be contacted by someone they don't know and could be vulnerable to content posted by this person.
