- ❑ Verbs in Spanish have different endings depending on who you are talking to.
For example:
Everyone look = mirad
One person look = mira
- ❑ When speaking and writing in Spanish, you need to include the 'la' or 'el', which means 'the'.
Even though in English we would say 'school' not 'the school'.
- ❑ Most Spanish shops shut for an hour or two in the afternoons because people have a siesta – a short nap. Children come home from school too!
